Full-Stack Designer with over 10 years of experience in visual design, branding, UI/UX, and 3D visualization. Currently serving as Chief Design Officer at Moncero, where I've built and managed product and visual design teams, delivering projects across Web3, crypto, and enterprise systems (HRMS, HMS, hospital management platforms).

In the Web3 space, I led the design of Nordom Gates, a Telegram game that reached more than 6 million users. I am also co-founder of the Web3 digital agency Oasis, where I collaborate with both small and large crypto companies to develop branding, design systems, and digital products.
